GENERAL SUSPENSION OF BUSINESS-WAITING FOR ELECTION NEWS-HOPE ANCE OF THE PEACE-A GENERAL RIOT NARROWLY AVERTED-THE RESIDENCE OF A COLORED MINISTER MOBBED-JOY-FUL TIDINGS-TILDEN PRESIDENT.

There was more excitement than ever in Richmond yesterday. The election news did not come in half fast enough to satisfy the cravings of the public. The telegrams were often conflicting and unintelligible. Sometimes before the cheers for "President Tilden" had died out later advices had made it uncertain whether he would be able | ing of the race-line would be promotive of to get the 185th vote. We left to the discriminating people whom we knew we were serving to separate the wheat from the chaff, the probable from the improbable. And they did it. They were as ready to disbelieve the too confident assertions of enthusiastic Demohood of Radical bulletins coming from "the last ditch." Such was the press of people in our counting-room those wishing to get to the counter with advertisements found it in many instances impossible to do so, and some who wrote out their advertisements, pocketed them and came to the office, forgot the prime object of their mission after mingling a few minutes in the excited crowd.

With the fluctuation of the news from good to bad, oringing confidence or creating distrust, through all the variable portents of the time the popular heart responded as accurately as the thermometer to heat and cold.

RADICAL BOASTS. The Republican committeemen, after days of painful suspense and hours of immeasurable agony, yesterday evening succeeded in getting dispatches to the effect that Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana had gone Republican. As they wished it so, it was not difficult for them to believe this They had also advices that they had carried New York by nearly 3,000. They were also informed that Seger had defeated

Goode by about 500 majority. They made the most of these dispatches for the time being. They read them to a considerable congregation of colored men on the corner of Tenth and Main streets, and the ignorant darkies cheered lustily. They thought it was all right. They concluded that Sammy J. was sick, and would only remark, "Put me in my little bed." It is but truth to say that the positive assertions of the Republicans, and their apparent faith in Hayes's success, for awhile taggered the faith of many Democrats. The wires were promptly set to work, and in a short time it was proved that the Radicals were building great expectations upon a poor foundation.

ALMOST A RIOT. called upon for a speech, and he responded as promptly as he did the day before when the overloyed Conservatives carried him along in their triumphal car, so to speak. When it is considered that in the two or three days of excitement the whites made no offensive demonstrations towards the blacks, and indulged in no offensive exultation, this conduct of the colored people participating in this affair is particularly reprehensible. The colored people generally have for years been so well behaved here, and have acquired so fine a record for good behavior, they ought to stamp with their strong condemnation their reprehensible conduct.

INCIDENTS OF THE TROUBLE. A young lady (daughter of Judge C.) while coming down Eighth street going to the Mozart musicale, was so frightened by the mob which passed at that time that she had to be taken into Judge Meredith's. R. T. Reynolds was standing in the door at Christian & White's store as the crowd passed, and was struck on the arm with a brick. The demonstrations about Davenport's Hotel were such as to threaten a serious breach of the peace. One negro was arrested there. A policeman was forced to draw his pistol upon a refractory party, but fortunately was not compelled to use it.

THE HOUSE OF A MINISTER ATTACKED. Rev. J. W. Dungee, a colored minister, formerly a slave, a man of considerable ac-quirement and undoubted honesty of purose, throughout the presidential canvass gave to the cause of Tilden and Hendricks is best efforts. ever, if possible, was the crowd that stood before the Dispatch building last night. The disturbance that bappily ended without loss of life was warmly discussed, and for a time claimed great attention; but as the bulletins we displayed each hour gave better and better news, the disturbance was forgotten.

Cheer upon cheer, time after time, was given. After three days of hurrahing "the boys" were still in voice, and the sound of their joyous cheers was heard a mile and city-our people better retained their com- balf away. All that any one had to do was to get up and say, "Three cheers for Til-

POLICE COURT, YESTERDAY .- William H. Loving and Aaron Bolling, colored men, were arrested Wednesday night near the corner of Twelfth and Main streets for disorderly conduct. Upon being taken to the station-house and searched pistols were found on their person. In the Police Court Thursday morning the charge of disorderly conduct was dismissed, but they were sent on to the grand jury of the Hustings Court to answer for carrying concealed weapons. Counsel for one of the parties contended that his client did not habitually carry concealed weapons; that he only put the pistol in his pocket "to protect himself during the election." This argument was lost on the Justice, who indeed intimated that that was an aggrevation of the offence. Charles Jackson and James Brand, arrest ed for fighting in the streets, and James Driscoll, William Scott, and Maggie Martin, charged with being drunk, were discharged at the station-house.

Martha Jane Bell, an old offender, charged with being drunk, was sent to jail for ninety days. John Edwards, A. F. Bland, Sam. West, James Reid, Samuel McIntire, and Charles were discharged. Joseph Vessels alias Cox (colored), charged with engaging in a riot in July last, at Brook (colored) church, and striking Peter Neurohr, a deputy constable, on the head with a club, was sent to the county authorities.
